

35th International Symposium on Compound Semiconductors

ISCS2008 will be held September 21 - 24, 2008 at the Europa-Park Rust near Freiburg, Germany. Scientific program starts on Sunday, September 21, 2008 at 2:00 pm.

The conference addresses compound semiconductors and their applications as well as emerging materials, e.g. carbon, oxides, and organic semiconductors.

Conference Chairs

Günter Weimann, Oliver Ambacher
Fraunhofer Institute for Applied Solid-State Physics,
Germany

Invited Speakers

David Awschalom, UCSB
Erik Bakkers, Philips
Lucien Besombes, CNRS Grenoble
Zhihong Chen, IBM
Nicolas Grandjean, EPFL Lausanne
Ken Nakahara, ROHM
Tomás Palacios, MIT
Reinhart Poprawe, RWTH Aachen
Alberto Salleo, Stanford Univ.
Thomas Schäpers, Forschungszentrum Jülich
Zlatko Sitar, North Carolina State Univ.
James Speck, UCSB
Martin Wegener, Univ. Karlsruhe
Hiroshi Yamaguchi, NTT
Seikoh Yoshida, Furukawa

Program Chairs

Detlev Grützmacher
Forschungszentrum Jülich GmbH, Germany
Henning Riechert
Paul Drude Institute, Germany

Abstract submission

Authors are invited to submit a camera-ready abstract by June 6, 2008 in PDF file format. Further details are available on www.iscs2008.

Proceedings

The Symposium Proceedings will be published as a special edition of physica status solidi (c), following normal reviewing procedure.
